Women's Day In Convention of Disciples

George I. Haworth Be The Principal Speaker Tonight

Today is Women's Day at the 101st annual convention of the Missouri Disciples of Christ with a program presided over by Mrs. Wm. B. Clemmer, of St. Louis, state president of the Christian Women's Missionary Council. This is an organization of women of the Christian churches of the state numbering 60,000, and of that number 13,000 participate in the activities of the individual societies.

The principal speaker this morning was the Rev. Roger T. Nooe, Nashville, Tenn., who told of a ravine in Paletka, Fla., which had been beautified. The low places has been filled with flowers, and the whole made attractive by filling in the little unsigtly places. He likened this to people's lives, where their shortcomings could be overcome, and their lives and characters made beautiful and attractive. His inspirational address was a challenge to womenhood to fill up the gaps in the lives of those with whom they are associated, and make the world a better and happier place in which to live.

Mrs. Carl B. Swift, Springfield, led the devotional, and then followed a number of messages from representatives of the various departments of the council.

Those participating in this part of the program were:

Mrs. Anna Scott Carter, Kansas City, general secretary and missionary chairman, whose theme was, "Go Ye Into All the World."

Mrs. Z. W. Allen, Kansas City, treasurer and finance chairman, theme: "What Shall I Render Unto the Lord for All His Benefits."

Mrs. A. C. Ragsdale, Columbia, education, theme: "Study to Show Thyself Approved—The Workman."

Mrs. Evan L. Morris, Kansas City, publicity, theme: "The Women Who Publish the Tidings Are a Great Host."

Mrs. J. A. Van Lund, St. Louis, patriotic, theme: "'Tis Righteousness that Exalted a Nation and Sin Is a Reproach to Any Nation."

Mrs. Ray Pitts, St. Joseph, benevolence, theme: "In As Much As Ye Have Done It Unto One of the Least of These Ye Have Done It Unto Me."

Mrs. L. E. Lakin, Warrensburg, hospitality, theme: "Be Not Unmindful of the Stranger That Is Within Thy Gates."

Miss Jane Birkhead, Jefferson City, very sweetly sang. "Were You There When They Crucified My Lord."

The morning session adjourned at 12 o'clock, and lunch was served the women in the dining room of the church.

Afternoon Session

Numerous business affairs are to be taken up at this afternoon's session, the principal address to be made by Mrs. Esther Gale Potee, of India. The meeting opened with a praise service by David Owen, Kansas City.

Tonight's Speakers

W. N. Wilson, Independence, will be toastmaster at a banquet in the church basement this evening, at which speakers on the program are: James H. Tilsley, M. L. Riley, T. J. Bennett, J. L. Wilkerson, Frank B. Steimke, J. B. Weldon, Shermon B. Moore.

Less This Month To Dependents

JEFFERSON CITY, April 27—(AP)—Missouri's payments for aid to dependent children will take another sharp drop this month.

Approximately 10,450 checks totaling about $201,721 will be mailed late this week—two weeks after their normal mailing date.

The average payment per family of about $19.27 will be 35 per cent under the average amount of $30.18 for January—the last month before the legislature's cut in temporary appropriations forced a sharp paring of checks.

The April reduction under the $10 average family payment for March is due to the addition of some 2,000 cases to the rolls this month—most of them eligible since February but withheld from the rolls because of a funds shortage.

It was in February that payments were put on the basis of the $3,250,000 biennial ADC appropriation passed by the house. The commission had sought $6,453,000.

January's payments totaled $254,134, an average of $12.43 a child, compared with April's average of $8.16 a child.

Tells Story Of Finding La Mance Body

Witness Also Gives Evidence On Trip To Colorado

KEYTESVILLE, Mo., April 27.—(AP)—Max Brown, youthful sheriff of Linn County, testified today in the wife murder trial of Dr. William F. LaMance that when he found her body on a cot in her fruit cellar last August 15, her arms were extended and the knees drawn up.

Irwin (Doc) Harbaugh, an associate of the Laclede osteopath who testified earlier he saw the young woman's body three days before the sheriff's discovery, has said as a state witness that the body at that time was lying at full length with the hands folded.

Through the sheriff's testimony, the state apparently was striking at the defense's contention that the 29-year-old former nurse commited suicide, with poisoning indicated by the contorted position of her body.

Exhibit Bloody Shirt

A part of the torn and bloody shirt and stained trousers worn by Dr. LaMance on a fishing trip the day the state charges he beat his wife to death because she objected to his drinking, were brought into the court room while Sheriff Brown was testifying.

The sheriff said he found Mrs. LaMance's body a few hours after her husband reported her missing. He described it as badly discolored and said the tip of the nose was flattened. The state charges LaMance, a former Center College athlete and successful amateur boxer, killed his pretty wife with his powerful fists.

Under questioning by Prosecutor Dirk Green, the sheriff said LaMance changed his story of the time he returned from the fishing trip after the discovery of the body. Previously he said he had returned at 10 p. m., the night of August 9, Brown testified, and after the discovery, LaMance asserted he reached home at 10:30 a. m., April 10.

Hazel Brown, Negro housemaid in the LaMance home, was called to the stand today so the state

K C Police Bill Has Cleared Its First Hurdle

Committee Gives Approval In 'Do Pass' Action

JEFFERSON CITY, April 27.—(AP)—The month-old administration bill for state control of Kansas City's police cleared its first major legislative hurdle today and come out of a bitter house judiciary committee session by a whooping majority.

In a secret session behind locked doors, the powerful judiciary committee wrangled for four hours last night, then approved the Stark-suggested bill 29 to 9 a few minutes before midnight.

The bill's author, Rep. William B. Weakley (D), Pike County, said it would be on the house calendar by Friday and he would attempt to bring it up for perfection sometime next week.

"I'm on a day-to-day basis," he added.

Several attempts were made to alter the bill in the long executive session—described by one Republican as "the bitterest committee meeting I ever sat through"—and V. E. Phillips, Kansas City legislator talked two and a half hours in a futile effort to delay committee action on the bill until next week.

Finally John D. Taylor (D), Keytesville, cut short the debate with a motion that no amendments be accepted and the standing vote followed. Fourteen Democrats joined the 15 Republicans in favor of the bill.

These Democrats voted against it: Phillips, W. R. Smart, Edgar J. Keating, Samuel C. Hayden, Thomas J. Gill, all of Kansas City; W. O. Hanks of Joplin, Albert Parrish of Springfield,

The various visiting Elks reported from their lodges on the prospective delegatians coming to Sedalia for the three-day Elks Association convention to be held May 19, 20 and 21.

The convention committee from the local organization reports early reservations are coming in for the convention and it is expected to be one of the largest ever conducted by the Elks Association.

Following the regular meeting a social session was enjoyed at which time a buffet luncheon was served.

It was also announced a large class will be initiated into the lodge on May 17.

Hitler Speech Be Heard In All German Towns

Lavish Reception Aim For Reply To Roosevelt

BERLIN, April 27—(AP)—Nazis prepared today to give a lavish reception to Reichfuehrer Hitler's reichstag speech tomorrow and discounted Great Britain's conscription measure as a political move intended to frighten Germany.

The attitude of the controlled newspapers was that Britain may "arm up to the neck" if she wishes.

Propaganda Minister Paul Joseph Goebbels, apparently angered by the tone adopted by British newspapers toward Germany, wrote a lengthy article in Hitler's Voelkischer Beobachter attacking Britain's policy of a balance of power in Europe, and declaring:

"Germany is no English protectorate, and the English would do well to conduct their dealings with us in the way in which dealings with a big power are generally conducted."

Members of the diplomatic corps, including the American charge d'affaires, Raymond H. Geist, are expected to crowd the diplomatic gallery in the lavishly decorated kroll opera house to hear Hitler's reichstag speech in reply to President Roosevelt's peace appeal.

Sir Nevile Henderson, the Britin ambassador, and Robert Coulondre, France's envoy, who returned to Berlin this week after absences of more than a month "to report" to their governments on the destruction of Czecho-Slovakia, planned to occupy their usual boxes.

(The United States ambassador, Hugh R. Wilson, was summoned to Washington last November to report on the German anti-Jewish campaign and has not returned to his post.)

Maintain Deep Secrecy

German officials maintained deep secrecy as to the contents of the fuehrer's declaration, although it was known that he had completed it yesterday and turned it over to translators and printers two days before delivery —a marked departure from his usual custom.

However, it was stated that the text of the speech would not be available until the fuehrer nearly has finished delivering it (about 6:30 a. m. CST Friday).

Preparations were underway to ensure that every German, even those in the smallest village, would be able to hear the fuehrer answer President Roosevelt's proposals of non-aggression guarantees.

Squads of workers were busy stringing wires and setting up loudspeakers on the streets and public squares, and in theatres, Nazi community houses and party headquarters throughout the country.

When Hitler leaves his chancellery shortly before noon tomorrow tens of thousands will crowd the sidewalks on the Wilhelmstrasse and unter den linden up to the Kroll opera house.

A Nazi spokesman summed up German reaction to Prime Minister Chamberlain's speech on conscription with the sarcastic comment, "you probably can train men to use umbrellas in six months, but you can not train them for modern warfare within that time."

Germany Claims to Have Fastest Plane

AUGSBURG, Germany, April 27—(AP)—Germany claimed today to have the world's fastest airplane in a Messerschhmidt pursuit ship which yesterday covered a test course at an average speed of 755.11 kilometers (469.2 miles) an hour.

Kenyon Cooly Awaits Death In Gas House

Execution Early Friday For Slayer Of Dr. J. C. B. Davis

JEFFERSON CITY, April 27—(AP)—Youthful Robert Kenyon, his last legal recourse denied, coolly awaited today his execution in the prison gas chamber shortly after midnight for the kidnap-slaying of Dr. J. C. B. Davis of Willow Springs.

The 22-year-old Kenyon confessed he killed the widely known 67-year-old country phlsician January 26, 1937, in a plot by which the youth said he hoped to get $5,000 to marry his sweetheart, Opal Welch.

A writ of habeas corpus to halt the execution was denied by Federal Judge J. C. Collet late yesterday. Kenyon's attorney, J. N. Burroughs of West Plains, who already had made three futile appeals to the state supreme court, said he planned no further moves.

Judge Collet declined to intervene in the execution, contending points set out in the application, based on the "due process" clause in the U. S. Constitution were insufficient.

J. N. Burroughs, West Plains, attorney for the condemned Ozark youth, said he would make no further effort to block to death sentence.

Killed Dr. Davis

Kenyon was convicted of kidnaping Dr. Davis, 67-year-old Ozark physician, and killing him, January 26, 1937, because he had no place to keep the doctor while he tried to collect $5,000 ransom.

Arrested for an auto theft later, Kenyon was found in possession of a note book in which a ransom note had been written. Officers obtained a confession, in which the youth said he wanted the $5,000 to marry Opal Welch, his sweetheart.

The body of Dr. Davis was found in a pond, a check book clutched in one hand. Kenyon admitted the doctor had offered to write a check for $5,000.

Kenyon will be the tenth and youngest victim of the gas tank used for the first time in March of last year.

Ask 10,000 In Damage Suit

A $10,000 damage suit, filed by Sophia A. Bay, of Cole Camp, against the Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific Railway company and A. G. Darrell, engineer on that road, was brought to Pettis county Wednesday on a change of venue from Benton county.

The damages are asked for the death of Dr. Harry Bay, of Cole Camp, who was killed October 27, 1938, one mile north of there when his car was hit by a Rock Island train.

The petition alleges the sign at the crossing where Dr. Bay was struck, is located so that approaching cars are unable to see it. The peition also claims that the track at the crossing runs through a ditch built by the railroad, which hides oncoming trains from the road.

The suit is filed against James E. Gorman and Joseph B. Flemings, trustees for the railroad. C. P. Junge, Edwin F. Brady and F. M. Brady, all of Cole Camp, are attorneys for the plaintiff.

Ask Nearly Billion and Half For Year's Relief

President Sees Gain To Lessen Unemployed

WASHINGTON, April 27—(AP)—President Roosevelt asked congress today for a relief appropriation of $1,477,000,000 for the twelve months period beginning next July 1.

In a message saying that substantial gains were being made in the drive to reduce unemployment, Mr. Roosevelt said his recommended figure for the next fiscal year represented a reduction of one-third below the approximately $2,250,000,000 he said was appropriated for the current year.

He said $1,447,000 would permit employment of "slightly more than an average of 2,000,000 persons" during the next year.

"Barring unforeseen and unpredictable developments," the president told congress, "we are justified in exploring an upward trend in the volume of employment between now and June 30, 1940, and the sum just named represents my judgment as to the amount that should be provided on the basis of that expectation."

With this appropriation, Mr. Roosevelt asked that any unexpended balances left to the WPA out of its current funds be reallocated for use in the coming twelve months period.

Against Major Changes

The president came out against any major changes in the works progress administration set-up, other than those administrative revisions which he outlined in his "reorganization plan number one" submitted to congress earlier this week.

"It is my opinion that the operations of the works progress administration during the next fiscal year," he said, "should be year" he, said, "should be carried on much as at present but with the reduction that will be possible because of expected increases in private employment and a consequent decline in the need for work relief.

"Organizational changes which I expect to be made under the authority granted in the recent reorganization act will, I anticipate, make possible important economies resulting from the coordination of the operation of various federal agencies which are engaged in carrying out of projects."

Stand Against Doles

The president reaffirmed his stand against payment of doles as a substitute for wages paid to relief workers and also flatly stated opposition to any system of relief grants by the federal government to the state. Such grants have been advocated by many

From Hindenburg To Schurz

One of the first principles of politics is that in order to stop any movement to which you are opposed, you have to present a positive program. Mere opposition is not enough.

Americans of German blood in Milwaukee, one of the great "German" cities of the world, have learned this truth. And they have used it in neutralizing and nullifying a budding Nazi Bund movement in that city.

In 1935, when Nazi Bund influence began to be strongly felt in Milwaukee, it made an effort to control the Wisconsin Federation of German-American Societies.

But fortunately those societies were under dynamic control, and Bernhard Hoffmann, their leader, was ready with a positive program. He well knew that many of those who thoughtlessly join the Bund were simply victims of pressure of one kind or another, and that if they knew their own organizations were standing firm, they could stick with them and not be drawn by pressure into Nazi organizations with which they really had little sympathy.

* * *

The Nazi group, led by George Froeboese, started one of those "summer camps" where young men were taught the Hitler salute beneath the Hitler Youth flag. It was named Camp Hindenburg.

Hoffmann was not content with protecting. He had his federated societies leave the camp for this summer. It will be operated this year on American principles for the sons and daughters of the members of the German-American societies.

They will change the name to Camp Carl Schurz and run it with all the advantages of outdoor and camp life but without any "heiling" or foreign-inspired trimmings.

* * *

The change of name from Hindenburg to Schurz is symbolic of the change in spirit. For it replaces the name of the reactionary Prussian Junker militarist with that of the Republican rebel who fled Germany in 1848 after an unsuccessful effort to set up free government.

Schurz's career in the United States continues to be a greater inspiration to Americans of German blood than that of any Prussian Junker. For Schurz took a brilliant part in American politics as a supporter of Lincoln, served as minister to Spain, distinguished himself during the Civil War as a volunteer officer, became the outstanding editor of the Westliche Post, and later United States senator from Missouri.

Negative opposition to the ideals of Hindenburg is not enough. The Milwaukee German-Americans have shown a splendid example in turning instead to a positive and constructive devotion to the ideals of Schurz.

Egyptian frescoes show pictures of ancient Egyptian weavers with their loom, and these frescoes date back to 3000 years before the birth of Christ.

The Affenpinscher dog is of the toy type, and resembles a monkey more than it does a dog. Even its screaming is monkey-like. The breed is of German origin, and is little known in America, with only a few individuals to be found here.

Ice, the winter foe of airmen, occasionally brings down birds, also. From time to time, reports come in telling of the capture of eagles, whose wings have become useless because of moisture freezing on the feathers.

Merit System Advances

Already in 1939 four states have established the merit system for creation of a systematic civil service personnel plan.

The Civil Service Assembly reports Minnesota, Alabama, Rhode Island and New Mexico as adopting merit systems in March. There are now 17 states operating under merit system laws, and the number has doubled within the past two years. Similar legislation is pending in at least five more states.

Thus the Great American Pie Counter is being shortened year by year, and the principle that to the political victor belongs the spoils is being whittled away.

Administrative and policy-making positions must always be the spoil of politics under a political system. It is probably so, for when the voters have registered a wish for a change in policy, those must be put in key positions who favor the new policies. But the vast bulk of routine and technical employes are gradually being given the protection from the winds of politics that they need and deserve.

Silly Season Opens Early

Every year there comes a period when people, tired and hot, weary and bored, let down their hair and relax into something good and goofy.

It's probably a good thing. The flagpole sitters, the marathon dancers, the beardgrowers, all add something to the gaiety of nations, and help us to realize that a life that was all serious would be intolerable.

This year, however, the silly season has come early. Even before hot weather has set in, we have been treated to a series of guppy-gulpers, mouse-munchers, and kiss-marathoners that are a match for the dizziest stunts of yesteryear.

Possibly it is the tension of the world situation that has brought the Silly Season prematurely to flower. Maybe the screwballs of 1939 realize that they have to get up pretty early in the year to impress a world that can hardly be restrained from jumping off the North Pole into chaos. What chance has a mere guppy-gulper got against the leaders in any country who are crying to their best young men: "Look! We think it best that you all go out and kill each other?"

Previous to horseshoeing, horses' hooves were covered with socks or sandals.

• The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By Drew Pearson and Robert S. Allen

WASHINGTON—It is not supposed to be known, but the principal obstacle facing Roosevelt on reorganization is personality and prima donna stuff. He can't shift bureaus away from chiefs who are powerful with Congress and who don't want them shifted.

Big surprise package Roosevelt has been working on for some time is the transfer of RFChairman Jesse Jones to be head of an expanded Commerce Department, with Commerce Secretary Hopkins transferred to be Secretary of the Navy. Two motives are behind this:

1. To give the Navy Department, at this crucial time, an active executive as its chief.

2. To put various lending agencies, such as the RFC, Commodity Credit Corporation, Export-Import Bank, Home Owners Loan Corporation, Farm Credit Administration and Federal Housing Administration, all under the Commerce Department.

Roosevelt's first plan was to lump these all under Harry Hopkins, but this was spiked by Jesse Jones. Jesse didn't like the idea of giving up his present independent status as RFC Chairman and working under Hopkins.

So Jesse scampered up to Capitol Hill and proceeded to enlist his many friends in a "Stop-Roosevelt-from-Transferring-the-RFC" movement. Jesse, a Texan, has powerful friends in Congress, among them Vice President Garner. They promptly served notice on the White House that Jesse Jones was not to be subordinated to a New Deal Cabinet member.

Gun-Shy FDR

After his bitter experience over Tom Amlie's appointment to the Interstate Commerce Commission, Roosevelt has become gun-shy regarding Senate confirmations, so he decided not to risk a fight over Jesse Jones and his RFC.

Instead he turned toward the Navy, which is in woeful condition as to its civilian executives. Secretary of the Navy Swanson has striven desperately to hold up his end, but his 77 years and failing health have made it almost impossible. When he attends Cabinet meetings, Swanson has to wait until his aide enters the room to help him up from his chair.

Assistant Secretary of the Navy Charles Edison also has been stricken with a serious eye ailment and cannot resume work for some time.

Roosevelt is most fond of Swanson and has hesitated about replacing him. The Secretary of the Navy has no income other than his government salary. However, the needs of the Navy which are vital at this period of renewed building, have convinced the President that personnel changes are necessary.

Garner and Tourist

Ambling by the crowded Senate restaurant on the ground floor of the Capitol, silver-thatched Jack Garner was stopped by a young woman who asked to be directed to a rest room. Startled, the Vice President beckoned urgently to a nearby guard, who ran over and inquired solicitously, "Yes, Mr. Garner?"

"Heavens!" gasped the lady tourist, "are you the Vice President? Why, I thought you were just another employe around here."

Garner waited to hear no more. Abandoning both the gaping woman and the grinning policeman, he dashed into the dining room and hustled toward a side entrance.

Senate Speedster

The Senate has a new speed champ. Senator Homer Bone, wiry Washingtonian, has been dethroned as fastest talker in the chamber by Senator Charles W. Tobey, plump New Hampshire rookie.

One of the fleetest speakers in the history of the Senate, Bone frequently hits a high of 300 words a minute. But he isn't in Tobey's class. The newcomer tears along at a steady rate of around 400 words a minute.

That is bad enough for the official reporters, but what makes it worse is that Tobey has an impediment in his speech which makes it extremely difficult to understand him. When he came to the Senate he warned the shorthand aces about his shortcoming.

"Newspapermen back home called me a 'reporter killer.'" he said. "I'm going to be a tough customer for you to handle and I'll help you in any way you suggest."

Note—The average flow of Senate oratory is 150 words a minute. The late Senator J. "Ham" Lewis of Illinois was a slow talker but difficult to "take" because of the extreme length of his sentences. Once he delivered a sentence 1100 words long.

Wrong House

Mrs. Edith Nourse Rogers, eight-term Massachusetts Republican Congresswoman, didn't realize how high she rates with her constituents until the other day.

A delegation conferred with her on a legislative matter and to finish the discussion she invited the group to have breakfast with her the following morning in the "House restaurant." She appeared at the appointed hour, but no constituents. After a 20-minute wait she had about decided that something had gone wrong, when suddenly she was called to the telephone.

"Mrs. Rogers, this is the White House talking," she was informed. "There seems to be a mixup somewhere. A delegation from your district is here and says they were to have breakfast here with you. We are sending them to your office."

Stover To Have Water System

STOVER, April 27.—Work started here Monday on a new water system, which will supply the whole town with running water and replace the wells which are at present the only source of water supply for the residents.

The cost of the entire project, jointly financed by the PWA and the city administration, will be $37,000. Last October a bond issue was voted in Stover for $18,500, the town's share of the project.

Three-fourths of the men employed on the job are from Stover. The P. P. Young Construction Company, of St. Joseph, holds the contract for excavating and laying the water mains, while L. L. Lane, of Kansas City, has the well and pump house contract.

The well to supply water for the system has been completed. It is 575 feet deep, and has been approved by the board of health at Rolla. The pump house has not yet been constructed.

The water lines have already been laid on Main street. It is expected that work will be finished by July 1, if not earlier.

Bomb-Seasoned Missionary Thinks Japs Will Be Beaten

By MARY RITCHIE

Miss Elvira Strunk, whose missionary home in northern China was bombed by the Japanese last June 25, said in an interview at the home of the Rev. Paul Miller, 912 South Osage avenue, that she believes Japan will be a beaten nation in three years. Miss Strunk spoke at the Trinity Lutheran church Wednesday night on her missionary work in China.

Miss Strunk, who has been a missionary in China near Tsingtao, a northern port city, formerly a German colony, founded the first girls school in that section in 1925. The school, which is located in Tsimo, 30 miles north of Tsingtao, has outgrown itself three times, and is now co-educational. with 230 pupils and an all-Christian faculty. Tsimo is a big market town.

Early in the morning of June 25, 1938, two airplanes were sighted headed toward the mission, and before the 60 persons in the compound could reach the safety of three dug-outs provided for such eventualities, the mission properties were bombed. The three buildings were severely damaged by the two 200-pound bombs that fell from the Japanese planes, although there was no loss of life.

Wrecks Her Home

One of the bombs landed three feet from Miss Strunk's home, a mission property, completely wrecking the interior; the walls were left standing.

The American flag flying from the main building was torn by shrapnel. Miss Strunk has photographs of the damaged properties, but was recently advised by Washington that the pictures should not be released to newspapers. She plans to return to her school, which is in an area controlled by the Japanese, and if word reached the authorities that she had placed unfavorable propaganda in the hands of American newspapers, she undoubtedly would experience difficulty in landing at Tsingtao.

Contrary to reports she asserts are Japanese-originated, there is no Communism in China, or at least she has found no evidence of such in her locality, although she has been accused of harboring Communists at her school.

Japs Feel Important

A reason for Japan's possible alliance with the Rome-Berlin axis is that she wants to be considered an important power.

Miss Strunk says that our country, by the sale of scrap iron and other military by-products, assists Japan in its undeclared war on China. According to the returned missionary, every American mission in China has been bombed.

Speaking of China, she claims that country is rapidly becoming a modern nation since the advent of the Nationalist government in 1929. The Chinese are progressing in every line of endeavor and she attributes one cause of the Japanese invasion to Tokyo's fear of this new strength.

Japan's desire for territory, Miss Strunk further believes, is not the prime motive in her aggression policies—it is the wish for resources for which she is not willing to pay.

China Unconquered

That China will not be conquered she feels certain. It is a tremendous land and in the section where she is located, for instance, only eight provinces out of 104 are occupied by the Japanese. A similar condition is true throughout the whole nation, she reports, and in addition the Chinese have found new hope and staunchness in the ever-increasing development of the vast interior—a movement that is attracting much interest.

The war is awakening a spiritual need in the Chinese, and many are turning to Christianity, Miss Strunk said in her interview, adding that "missionary work has never been better."

Miss Strunk, who talked in Cole Camp yesterday afternoon, gave her 145th lecture since her return to the United States last September, at the Trinity Lutheran church last night.

She left on an early morning train en route to her home in Allentown, Pa. Although her leave is not up until next January, she plans to return to China in October. She will take up residence again at her mission, sponsored by the Missionary of the United Lutheran church, at a place where bombs drop from the skies—and the feeling at that moment, she recalls, is "terrific—an experience that cannot be described."

• SERIAL STORY
BORDER ADVENTURE

BY OREN ARNOLD

COPYRIGHT, 1939, NEA SERVICE, INC.

Yesterday: Once in Juarez, Betty Mary finds excitement aplenty when she meets and dances with Luis Barro!

CHAPTER XI

YOUNG Messrs. Sheridan Starr and Hope Kildare, pals and fellow officers in the United States Border Patrol, theoretically were to have gone to bed by 11 o'clock this night, gotten a good sleep and reported for further official duty next morning. Actually they did nothing of the sort.

They trailed Betty Mary instead in their car until her taxi crossed the international bridge into Mexico. Then they just rode around glumly for a while, saying little.

At midnight they pulled up at the U & I Cafe, stalked in and ordered huge slabs of apple-raisin pie and plenty of black coffee. Having eaten, they thumped their stiff hats back on their heads, stalked back out to their car, separated and went home.

Normally they would have met at the office next morning at 8 o'clock. Next day, however, they walked in before 7, not 10 minutes apart.

"Coffee musta kept me awake," Sheridan apologized, which both men knew wasn't so.

"Me too," agreed Hope. "Hardly got a good cat nap."

They pretended all morning to be writing reports. Four times they asked the office secretary if any telephone calls had come for them.

"Wouldn't I have called you if they had?" she asked at last, sensibly. "I knew you were in the building."

At noon the two men walked outside and stared up at the tall steel tower that rises, needle-like, 120 feet above the bank of the Rio Grande. Another border patrolman was up there in the tiny crow's nest, watching with strong field glasses to see anyone who might try to wade the river in daytime. He commanded a view for many miles, and could telephone down the information if he saw aliens crossing. Radio would then pass it on to cruising patrol cars. Officer Barton was up there now. Alert, he saw Hope and Sherry, leaned out to wave at them, comradely.

"See anything? Over there?" Sheridan shouted up.

"No. What'd you expect? A revolution?"

"Nuts," Sherry growled. "Come on, Hopey. Let's go somewhere."

"Where?" asked Hope.

"I dunno."

* * *

THEY bluffed around until 6 p. m., changed out of their uniforms, then ate supper together and still faced the problem of what next to do. They hadn't spoken of it, even once, but the truth was that they were miserable with concern for Betty Mary, and each man knew it in his heart. They got in Hope's car after supper and Hope, at the wheel, turned it westward without so much as a comment. Nor was anything said about Betty when he rolled up on the bridge over the Rio Grande.

"Senores!" both men spoke, and added a formal salute, when they slowed down to pass the Mexican officers on guard at their end of the bridge. It was a custom for officers of either country thus to pass back and forth, with mutual courtesy extended. The Mexican officials liked to visit in America; the Americans in Mexico. Both groups were known to one another anyway.

"Might stop up here on Cinco de Mayo street and get another cuppa coffee," Sheridan suggested. "And look around some."

They still hadn't mentioned Betty Mary. But she had been gone for almost 24 hours and that much time can seem like a year. They ought to have arranged for her to telephone them or something every little while, Hope was thinking.

They drove twice by the Montezuma Hotel and saw no sign of her. They parked then and walked up Cinco de Mayo, thence over onto 16th de Septiembre, looking tentatively into every barroom, saloon, cafe, restaurant, hotel lobby, and curio store, two big American officers well aware that many a man and woman who hated them were on the streets at that hour.

Still searching, they turned into The Place of the Sleeping Monk and all at once saw her!

She was sitting at a table alone. The two officers brightened instantly. They stalked to another table nearby and sat down, beckoning to a waiter. They had eaten heartily in El Paso, but they ordered another meal.

Behind a glass of iced aguamiel —the strange sweet drink of Mexico—Betty Mary looked at them in exasperation.

* * *

SHE alternately sipped her drink and sketched. It helped cover her feelings. She watched the Americans eat chili and enchiladas. And she watched the front door, trying to think of something to do, some recourse.

There was no time, however, to form a plan. She was just beginning a new sketch when Barro himself came in, walking with his customary grace and swagger. He saw her instantly and smiled grandly.

"Senorita!" he exclaimed. "I was afraid you might not keep the appointment! I am so luckee! I do not deserve—"

All at once he stiffened, seemed to freeze there. He had seen the two officers of the Border Patrol, recognizing them even though they were now out of uniform. They had dressed in ordinary West Texas style, which included wide hats of the cowboy type, common along the border.

"Sit down, Don Luis!" Betty Mary urged. "Certainly I kept the appointment. How could I break a date with you? And I have been quite busy sketching, too. Look—I found these two American ranchers—they so kindly agreed to pose for me. They are excellent facial types, and very cordial men. You should know them. I will present them to you."

She left her chair and moved to Hope and Sherry.

"Gentlemen," she resumed, quite formally, "I want you to meet my charming friend, Don Luis Barro. Don Luis, this is Mr. Starr and Mr.—Mr.— I am so sorry, your name has slipped me, sir?"

Hope and Sherry had been poised like taut springs! Or like panthers crouched, ready to pounce on an enemy. In one flashing motion they could have attacked, in unison. They had recognized Luis Barro instantly, a moment before he saw them. Luis Barro, the man they wanted most in the world to put in jail! Or, if necessary, to see dead.

"K-Kildare!" stammered Hope, acting, for Betty Mary. "Kildare."

Sherry caught his cue a shade quicker. He had sense enough to stand up and bow at Barro, but Hope was just glaring.

Betty Mary babbled on like the talkative tourist she purported to be. "It is so sweet to have all three of you gentlemen together. Won't you let us move our tables together and—oh, waiter!—come, please, and help us make a little party here. Now Mr. Kildare, I want to study your profile while you eat, but you and Don Luis please just go right on being sociable for it won't interfere at all! Not at all, there's a dear. Unh huhm. You all have classic features. Don Luis, you are a marvelous Latin type, really you are! And see how Mr. Starr leans more toward the Nordic, in the set of his eyes and nose? And such handsome men! And all so hospitable! I heard a great deal about the southwestern hospitality before I came, and now I am enjoying it, dear, dear! Please go ahead and order our meal, Don Luis; I can stop and eat always, ha ha!"

She kept jabbering on gaily. Hope and Sherry swallowed hard, wearing expressions that suggested doom was about to strike. But Don Luis Barro, eyes narrowed, began to relax in a delighted smile. Obviously he was thoroughly enjoying the situation.

Society and Clubs

A duplicate bridge tournament will be started next week at the Country Club, Mrs. Leon H. Archias, Jr., chairman of the social committee announced today.

Members wishing to make arrangements for partners or for tables are asked to call Mrs. John C. McLaughlin or Mrs. Harvey Brimmer for their reservations.

The usual one o'clock luncheons will precede the tournament plays. The exact day for the games will be chosen later in the week.

The annual choral program of the Helen G. Steele Music club was presented Wednesday afternoon at the Heard Memorial clubhouse, as the third in a series of programs arranged in celebration of National Music week.

Miss Nina Harris in a very pleasing manner illustrated the program numbers by giving appropriate quotations from poems descriptive of spring.

The chorus displayed beauty of tone and lovely blending as well as singing, fine balance and precision under the able direction of the director, Mrs. H. C. Johnson.

Prof. W. B. Hert played the violin obligato for the opening chorus, "The Snow" by Elgar. One of the outstanding chorus selections was the song "April" by Buchanan. Throughout the program interesting interpretation was given the wide variety of songs. The accompanying of Mrs. Paul Berthouex was exceptionally sympathetic.

The date of the final music club program for the season has been changed from Friday night, May 5 to Monday night, May 8. At that time Mrs. Clayton O. Markham, soprano, will be presented in a recital with Miss Martha Redmond and Miss Alberta Roach as assistant artists.

Wednesday night the chorus appeared on the program at the first night session of the Disciples of Christ convention at the First Christian church.

Muddy, Sallow Broken-Out Skin?

Many Never Know Why— But Reason May Be This

Many persons with pimples, and muddy, unhealthy looking skin go on being miserable when they might easily clear them up in a short time. Oftentimes slowed-down activity on the part of the stomach and bowels are at the bottom of these troubles. Food turns sour in stomach and bowels. Too many wastes and acids go into the blood and these poisons are one of the main causes that often make your skin break out, grow muddy — your eyes look dull, your breath bad and keep you tired and depressed.

Wheat Advances As Corn Drops

CHICAGO, April 27.—(AP)—All wheat futures contracts sold above 70 cents a bushel today, highest since January, as the market advanced a cent in the final hour due to increased buying inspired by fear of more serious winter wheat deterioration.

There was a good international trade, although no domestic export business could be confirmed. Short covering and purchasing by eastern and southwest interests stimulated the price rally. Pit brokers said there were unconfirmed reports of the spread of crop damage northward into Nebraska.

Wheat closed ½ to 1⅛ cent higher than yesterday, May 70⅞c to 70¾c, July 70⅜c to 70¼c; corn unchanged to ⅜ cent lower, May 48¼c to 48¼c, July 50c to 49⅞c; oats ⅛ to ¼ cent higher.

Acquit Judges In Fraud Cases

ST. LOUIS, April 27—(AP)—Four election judges in the last of the vote fraud cases were acquitted by a circuit court jury yesterday. They were charged with having signed vote tally sheets last November in advance of the count.

Frank A. Reader and Glennon Loehrer, Democrats, and Fred B. Rehmund and Milton C. Hippler, Republicans, the defendants, were judges in the 18th precinct of the 21st ward. Each denied any intent to commit fraud.

Similar charges were dismissed against Mrs. Alvera Hoffer and Miss Elizabeth T. Barry, election clerks. They originally were charged with the judges with having signed the tally sheet before the count and were used as state witnesses.

Factory Display Trailer Shows Latest In Outboard Motors

Ilgenfritz Hardware Co., Sedalia, Mo., has received word definitely that the Johnson Factory Display Trailer will arrive on April 29th with a full display of the latest outboard motors.

The new "Miracle Motor," just introduced, is shown in three models. Its light weight of only 21½ pounds, and its smooth 2.5 brake horsepower (certified N. O. A. horse power at 4,000 revolutions per minute), combined with the three essentials of perfect outboard performance — Alternate Firing, Reverse, and Underwater Exhaust — make it the most talked about motor this year.

"Captain" Wm. Holem is in charge of the display. He has been with Johnson for ten years, and will be glad to answer any questions about any Sea Horse motors, old or new.

Stereopticon Courtship

Back in 1911, or thereabouts when Vernon Castle courted Dr. Foote's daughter Irene out New Rochelle way, the family stereopticon led up to a proposal and to the formation of an internationally eminent dance team. The scene shows Fred Astaire and Ginger Rogers in the name roles of "The Story of Vernon and Irene Castle," opening Tuesday at the Liberty is their current RKO Radio dramatic musical with a lavish revival of the dances introduced by the Castles.

American Legion Team Practice

The Junior American Legion baseball squad will practice at 10:30 o'clock Saturday morning. Fred Yeager, playing manager announced today. Manager Yeager said a practice game by the squad will be played on the Liberty Park diamond.

A large number of baseball players under the age of seventeen have already signed up. There are still plenty of openings for other ball players who desire to tryout for the club.

Bad weather the past two weeks has put a "cramp" on the practice up to the present time.

Has Faith In The Phillies

PHILADELPHIA, April 27.—(AP)—The man behind the surprising Phillies—a dentist who has yanked 1938's most downtrodden team into second place in the National League — isn't promising they'll stay there but, he says, "it can be done."

Such is the faith Manager James Thompson "Doc" Prothro has in the club that has won four straight from the New York Giants and Brooklyn Dodgers and has not lost in five straight games. One was an 11-inning tie with Brooklyn.

"I'm just a dentist," said Prothro today, "but I know something about medicine and I think I have discovered a serum for that last-place poison baseball experts and writers have been injecting into my boys for the past two years.

"I'll tell you what it is—confidence in themselves. For the first time since most of them came up from the minor leagues, they believe they can win and are sure that they will not finish last.

"Those boys are no collection of bums. They're good and just as likely to move up three places as one in this league."

Phothro, who succeeded Jimmy Wilson, served notice during spring training h ewould not tolerate non-hustling players. He began building confidence in the players on the coaching lines. They caught his spirit and now their dressing room is charged with enthusiasm.

"Doc" has shown he can handle men, and has displayed a nack when to switch pitchers and batters. In the Brooklyn series he inserted a whole string of pinch hitters and relief twirlers and all came through. In the second game with the Giants he caught Bill Terry's men flatfooted by ordering Claude Passeau to lay down a squeeze bunt with a man on third and two out. It scored the winning run.

Bunceton Elects Its Baseball Officers

Plenty of baseball will be had at Bunceton this year with the team organized there entering into the Tri-County league composed of eight teams. The Bunceton club lost its first league game to Prairie Home last Sunday afternoon.

Sonny Wilson has been elected manager of the Bunceton club and Francis Draffen has been named Captain of the club.

New uniforms of gray with red stripes have been ordered for the players.

Compromise Be A Possibility

WASHINGTON, April 27.—(AP)—Attorney General Murphy said today a representative of T. J. Pendergast, Kansas City Democratic leader recently indicted for federal income tax evasion, had asked him for a conference or a hearing.

Queried at his press conference today if he had been asked for such a hearing or conference, Murphy replied:

"No one has asked me. I can only speak for myself." He emphasized "me."

"Do you know of anyone high in the government asking for a hearing before someone in high authority?" a reporter asked.

"I can't speak for other people about this," he said.

"Could the Pendergast case be compromised after the indictment?" Was the next question.

"I believe it could be,' replied the attorney general.

Calls For Return To Testament

KANSAS CITY, April 27—(AP)—A British "local preacher" who a week ago saw babies being fitted with gas-masks called today for a "return to the New Testament" as the hope of a war-scared world.

"The church has a message and there is no better time to utter it," said the Hon. Issac Foot of Plymouth, England, in an address to the Methodist uniting conference here.

The conference was called to perfect a discipline for a new American Methodist church made up of the present Methodist Episcopal, M. E. South and Methodist Protestant branches.

Slayer Of Four Sought By Posse

PARIS, Tex., April 27—(AP)—Possemen searched thicketed Red river bottomlands today in their hunt for Marion Mackey after the shotgun killing of four persons.

Chief Deputy Sheriff George Robertson said the shooting apparently resulted from a year-long feud between Mackey and the neighboring farm family of J. W. Snow after words over straying chickens.

Those killed near Emberson, Tex., were:

J. W. Snow, 79; Mrs. Leo Dennis, about 50, and Mrs. Willie Kemper, about 45, daughters of snow; and Dee Chandler, a neighbor.

Mrs. Marion Mackey, wife of the hunted man, told deputy Robertson in the presence of a newspaperman she had heard her husband say he was "going to wipe out the whole family." Her son corroborated her statement.

Leo Dennis, husband of one of the slain women, was wounded.

Assistant County Attorney A. M. Harrison said no inquests would be held.

A & P Food Mart Has First Birthday

Super Market Opened In Sedalia One Year Ago

Grocery A La Cafeteria

Joins In Nation Wide 'Parade Of Progress' On Foods

A year ago The Great Atlantic & Pacific Tea Company opened its Super Market in Sedalia at Third and Osage avenue.

The A & P Food Mart, as it is known throughout Central Missouri celebrates its First Birthday with a "Parade of Progress" demonstration in cooperation the nation-wide program of food demonstrations. The public is cordially invited to attend. There will be free food samples, as well as Bread and Coffee spoons to be given away.

The Sedalia Food Mart today is under the management of Mr. O. G. "Ollie" Merrick who resides at 505 South Massachusetts avenue and Mr. Ralph Ford, manager of the meat department who resides at 910 South Moniteau. Both men have had more than 10 years service with the A & P organization before coming to Sedalia from Kansas City.

Years ago when the first cafeteria swung wide its doors and invited people to come in and help themselves instead of having waiters serve them, no few pairs of skeptical eyebrows were lifted in an attitude of "This new thing will never succeed."

Critics of cafeterias were prone to say that the public could never be induced to carry a tray from counter to counter, select a dinner, tote the tray to the table and, so to speak, serve themselves. But the critics were wrong.

Patrons Serve Themselves

Cafeterias blossomed into popularity, then bloomed in prosperity, and for one significant reason. Because the patrons served themselves, many expenses usual to the restaurant business were eliminated. And because these expenses were out of the cafeteria picture, these serv-your-own-meal establishments provided more to eat for less money. The public like cafeterias and demanded more of them. Today, for the very same reason that the cafeteria found high praise from the public, the super market or self-service food stores as developed A. & P. are receiving widespeard public endorsement.

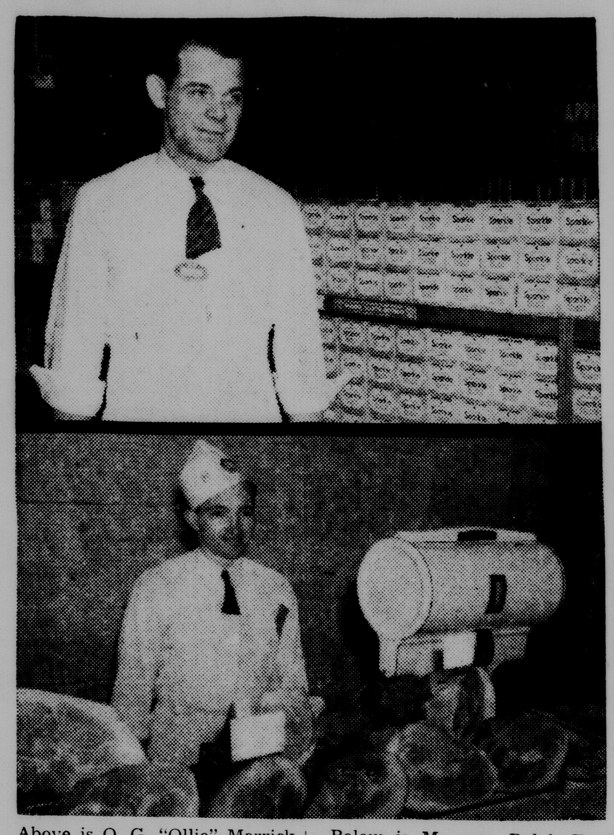
Food Department Store

An A. & P. self-service store or A. & P. super market (in case you haven't yet visited one, is a large food department store that sells food a la cafeteria. You enter by way of a turnstile, select a basket-carrier (a clever gadget that looks like two wire market baskets fastened to the frame of a doll carriage) into which you place the foods you pick from shelves, bins and displays. You walk down wide aisles, between rows of packages, cans, bottles and jars of good things to eat. You pick up whatever your fancy dictates, examine it, read its label, compare it to other brands of the same class of commodity. And you note its price—for every item not only has a price ticket plainly shown on each display, but each individual container is marked with its cost. And so, if the mood moves you, you saunter leisurely through the super market taking your good old time and being as persnickery as you wish. Or if you are in a hurry, you can breeze through your shopping in less time than it takes to tell.

The A. & P. super market is a food store a la cafeteria. All the famous names in the food world, the popular brands, are offered in wide assortments and ample stocks—for customers to choose at their will. However, meats, fresh fruits and vegetables and coffees are presided over by clerks in special departments where needed service is given.

A large free parking space is provided for customers just opposite the Food Mart.

Managers At A & P Food Mart



Above is O. G. "Ollie" Merrick, manager of the Great Atlantic and Pacific Tea Company Super Market located at Third street and Osage avenue in Sedalia. Mr. Merrick and Mrs. Merrick have made their residence in Sedalia for the past six months, residing at 505 South Massachusetts avenue.

Below is Manager Ralph Ford of the Meat Departmnt in the Super A & P Food Mart. Mr. and Mrs. Ford reside at 910 South Moniteau avenue in Sedalia with their nine year old son.

Both managers have had more than ten years service with the A & P before coming to Sedalia to make their homes, from Kansas City.

To Give Talks On Nursery Rhymes

The historical background of Mother Goose rhymes will be the subject of a talk by Miss Ruth Fitzgerald, of Warrensburg, at 2:30 o'clock Friday afternoon in the Parish hall of Calvary Episcopal church.

The affair is being sponsored by the Women's Auxiliary of the church and the talk will be followed by a tea.

Miss Fitzgerald tells most interestingly of the various rhymes that are so popular in the nursery and of their origin from a historical standpoint.

BACKACHE, LEG PAINS MAY BE DANGER SIGN

Of Tired Kidneys

If backache and leg pains are making you miserable, don't just complain and do nothing about them. Nature may be warning you that your kidneys need attention.

The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking excess acids and poisonous waste out of the blood. Most people pass about 3 pints a day or about 3 pounds of waste.

Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning shows there may be something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

If the 15 miles of kidney tubes and filters don't work well, poisonous waste matter stays in the blood. These poisons may start nagging backaches, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness.

Don't wait. Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from the blood. Get Doan's Pills.

Tuberculosis Tests Are Made

There have been 868 tuberculosis tests made in the schools of Sedalia recently by Mrs. Blanche Crawford, St. Louis, field representative of the Missouri Tuberculosis Association, assisted by Miss Bettye Field, Sedalia public school nurse.

Approximately five per cent of that number showed positive tests, which means that those children are much more susceptible to the disease and some may have symptoms of active tuberculosis. That per cent is the usual percentage with the Patch test, which was used.

Mrs. Crawford and Miss Field are well pleased with the response they have received from parents and pupils, and home visits are now being made to determine the source of infection, if possible, and to refer the case to the family physician for a checking up.

Several local physicians assisted the nurses in determining the results of these tests. They included pupils in the first, second grades, seniors, and also some other children who were brought to their attention.

Church Group to Meet

The Spiritual Life group of the Methodist Episcopal church, South will meet at 10 o'clock Friday morning at the home of Mrs. Louis Hoffman, Ninth street and Missouri avenue.

SUNDAY DINNER Suggestions

By CORA ANTHONY
Director of A&P Kitchen

ASPARAGUS is nearing the height of its season and prices are as low as can be expected. Strawberries and pineapples are plentiful and very reasonable in price. Outdoor rhubarb is about to reach market and how good its delicate tartness will taste.

Salad greens, broccoli, cauliflower, peas and spinach are good values. Cabbage is still high.

Beef, pork, veal and poultry are all reasonable in price. Eggs, butter and cheese are in the low price group. Increasing supplies of fresh fish and seafood are available each week.

Frock for School Girls Offers Many Changes

By CAROL DAY

The choice thing about this blouse-jumper-bolero, shown in Pattern No. 8388. is that you can build almost a whole ward-robe for your school girl daughter arount it.

With different blouses, the jumper skirt will seem like several dresses, and even more changes are made possible by donning or removing the bolero. Bolero added, it's a smart line suit. This high-wasted version of the jumper skirt is becoming to growing girls. The blouse is simple and young, with round collar and puffel sleeves.

For the bolero and jumper, choose wool crepe, flannel, challis and, later on, cottons like pique and linen. For the blouse, choose linen, batiste, dimity or lawn.

Pattern No. 8388 is designed for sizes 10, 12, 14 and 16 years. Size 12 requires 1⅜ yards of 39-inch material for long-sleeved bolero, 35-inch material for blouse.

The new SPRING AND SUMMER PATTERN BOOK, 32 pages of attractive designs for every size and every occasion, is now ready. Photographs show dresses made from these patterns being worn; a feature you will enjoy. Let the charming designs in this new book help you in your sewing. One pattern and the new Spring and Summer Pattern Book—25 cents. Pattern or book alone—

Maltby Coffee Shows Large Shipping Increase First Quarter

The Maltby Coffee Company in a report made public at the close of the first quarter of business March 31, 1939 shows an increase of two and half times as many employes as the corresponding period in 1938.

The Maltby firm has also brought to Sedalia and consumed three train carloads of coffee during the first quarter, which established a new consumption record for the first quarter for the firm, which has served Sedalia and Central Missouri for more than a half century.

The public is cordially invited to visit the Maltby Coffee Company plant which is located at Main street and Prospect avenue.

Sure signs of spring—the rolled shoulder leg of lamb available in many meat departments. It looks like a leg, it roasts like a leg, and it tastes like a leg. But—and here are the glad tidings—the price is that of forequarter lamb.

Connoisseurs of lamb have usually agreed that shoulder roasts of lamb are full of rich, flavorful juices and are delightfully tender. The new cut includes only the two fore-leg bones, similar to the bones in the regular leg but there is about four inches of boneless rolled shoulder meat which adds much to the joys of carving.

To roast this fore leg, place fat side up on a rack or trivet in an open pan. Use no water. Roast in a moderately slow oven (325°F.) for about 40 minutes per pound. Place on a hot platter, remove the binding strings and garnish with 2 or 3 buttered spring vegetables of constrasting color. Serve at once. Be sure the plates are hot, too, because the fine flavor of lamb is appreciated best when lamb is hot. Cold sliced lamb is splendid too, but all in-between degrees of temperature are incompatible with perfection.

For the up-to-date woman who uses a roast meat thermometer, we should add that the shoulder roast of lamb is best when served well done or when the roast meat thermometer registrs 180°F. A word of causion should be given about the tendency of the meat thermometer to be pushed up during the roasting of any meat. If this happens, the reading on the thermometer will not be for the temperature of the center of the roast. For this reason, we suggest that before removing any roast from the oven, the thermometer be pushed a little deeper into the roast (not touching a bone, of course). If there is a drop in the temperature, it indicates that the thermometer was not in the exact center and, therefore, is not giving the information you wish.

Perhaps there won't be any leftovers when you serve one of the new fore legs of lamb, but just "in case be," here are some suggestions:

Lamb Meat Pie

2 cups diced cooked lamb
2 cups lamb gravy or brown sauce
1 cup cooked peas or carrots
1 cup mashed potatoes
Worcestershire sauce, catsup or horseradish

Combine lamb and gravy. Season with Worcestershire, catsup or horseradish. Add cooked vegetables. Turn into a 1½ quart greased casserole. Cover with seasoned mashed potatoes. Bake in a moderate oven (350°F.) about 30 minutes or until the pie is hot and browned.

Variation: Mashed potato may be piped around edge with a pastry bag or small baking powder biscuits may be baked on the pie to form the topping.

Lamb Hash

Mix equal parts of minced cooked lamb and diced cooked potatoes. Add a little chopped onion and parsley. Brown in a little hot fat. Fold in center. Turn out onto a hot platter.

Variation: Bake hash in a casserole with or without topping of grated cheese or chili sauce.

Jellied Lamb

2½ cups diced cooked lamb
Lemon gelatin
2 cups water
Mint flavoring
Green coloring
½ cup diced celery

Make 2 cups of lemon gelatin according to directions on the package. Add mint flavor, green coloring to make it light green, and salt. Pour ½ cup gelatin into a loaf pan or mold. Let chill. Combine rest of gelatin with lamb and celery. Fill into mold. Chill till set. Serve on platter garnished with fresh vegetable salad in lettuce cups.

French Dressing No. 1
(1 pint)

One and one-half cups olive oil, ½ cup strained lemon juice, 1 teaspoon salt, ⅛ teaspoon freshly ground black pepper, 2 teaspoons sugar, 1 egg yolk, ½ clove garlic.

Combine salt and sugar with just enough lemon juice to dissolve them. Add egg yolk and beat until mixture is fluffy. Then slowly beat in oil and remaining lemon juice, with pepper. Stand in jar in refrigerator with clove of garlic in it.

French Dressing No. 2
(1 pint)

One and one-half cups olive oil, 1 tablespoon lemon juice, ½ cup vinegar, 1 teaspoon salt, ⅛ teaspoon freshly ground black pepper, ⅛ teaspoon dry mustard, ¼ teaspoon paprika, ¼ teaspoon Worcestershire sauce, 1 clove garlic.

Combine salt, pepper mustard, paprika and Worcestershire sauce with lemon juice. Mix well, then beat in oil and vinegar. Stand in jar containing a clove of garlic.

Porcupine Meat Cakes
(Serves 4 to 6)

One pound ground beef, 1 cup raw rice, 1 egg, 1 tablespoon minced onion, 1 tablespoon minced parsley, salt, pepper and a pinch of dry mustard, 1 can condensed tomato soup, 1 cup water.

Mix meat, washed rice, onion, parsley, spices and unbeaten egg in bowl. Shape into balls. Place in heavy pot. Cover with tomato soup mixed with water. Cover and simmer for one and one-half hours.

Women's Day In Convention Of Disciples

Saturday's Events

Saturday is to be devoted to Colleges and Youths, and among the speakers will be Rev. Burriss Jenkins, Kansas City, who will address the conference at 11:15 o'clock that morning.

The church has five colleges in the state and all will be represented by delegates. They are: Christian college, Columbia; Bible School, Columbia; Culver-Stockton, Canton; William Woods college, Fulton, and the Bible department at Drury college, Springfield.

Governors Coming

Governors Lloyd C. Stark, of Missouri, and Governor Payne Ratner, Kansas, who are on the program for talks Friday night, will arrive in the city early enough to attend the men's banquet in the church dining room preceding the evening service.

Denounce Bills

A resolution passed unanimously by the convention Wednesday night repudiated "as a scurrilous libel the implication in bills now pending before the general assembly of the state, that the churches would accept a permit for the sale of beer, if authorized, or would engage in the sale or distribution of beer if permitted.

"We denounce the proposed acts and their introduction as a wicked an surreptitious effort to scandalize the church by linking it with a nefarious business and to impart a false air of respectability to the disruptable liquor traffic," the resolution states.

Rev. Nooe Spoke

The church without Christ is no more than a club, Roger T. Nooe, of Nashville. Tenn., said Wednesday night in his address at the opening night meeting of the convention.

Mr. Nooe, pastor of the Vine Street Christian church in Nashville, is president of the International Convention of the Disciples of Christ, which will convene next October in Richmond, Va.

"Christ, without the church, is indeed a lonely figure," he continued, in amplification of his subject, "Triumphant Trilogy," "and without the kingdom his efforts seem frustrated." The church, without the kingdom, becomes institutional, complacent and self-satisfied, he pointed out in leading up to his ultimate thought that we need a coordination of these three phases of religion.

New Meaning Sought

Through this interrelation there would be new meaning to religious education and a vitalized evangelism; religion would be objective, purposeful and creative, Mr. Nooe summarized.

It is his belief that the church should be a pattern of world-wide fellowship. He illustrated religious developments and the points of his message from his travels abroad and from an extended world trip which he took two years ago.

"There should be a corporate worship," he said, "and from the overflow would come the establishment of righteousness in the world which is the Kingdom of God."

Lemmon Gives Talk

C. E. Lemmon, for the last nine years pastor of the Christian church in Columbia, and president of the state convention, delivered the president's message earlier in the evening, and in speaking of the moral influence of churches in Missouri, cited that "We have had recent revelations of social, moral and political corruption in our state, which should give us all a sense of shame."

"While publicity has been focused on one community," he continued, "we know that its symptoms and effects are everywhere . . . I am here to say tonight that the Disciples of Christ as a brotherhood, cannot escape responsibility for this situation.

"We have been a strong force, numerically, throughout the history of this state; we have preached righteousness for a hundred years and we have had strong churches in nearly every county seat and we have had big congregations in the metropolitan centers, in addition to lay leadership in the conduct of the business and politics of Missouri . . . but what has our leadership been accomplishing?" he asked.

Political Preacher

He asserted that there seem to be two extremes in church policies—the political preacher who constantly drags politics into his sermons, and the "hands-off" attitude. He recommended that "it is certainly the duty of the ministry and the church to create such moral attitudes and tensions that will make it impossible for strong churches and political corruption to grow up side by side in our communities."

Mr. Lemmon pointed out that in the Protestant churches there is now a major turn toward integration, mentioning the uniting conference of the Methodist churches taking place in Kansas City this week.

"Sedalia's Most Dangerous Man" Sermon Topic

The Rev. G. L. Granger of Los Angeles, who is conducting the revival services now in progress at the Free Methodist church, Thirteenth and Marvin, plans to speak on " Sedalia's Most Dangerous Man," at 7:30 o'clock tonight.

The public is invited to hear the messages each evening.

May Make New Peace Appeal

WASHINGTON, April 27—(AP)—The belief was growing in diplomatic circles today that President Roosevelt might address further peace queries to Adolf Hitler if the German chancellor leaves the door open tomorrow in his reichstag speech.

The Nazi leader will discuss the president's appeal of April 15 that Hitler and Mussolini pledge 10 to 25 years on non-aggression against 31 nations. In return for such a promise, Mr. Roosevelt proposed calling world economic and disarmament conferences.

If Hitler makes counter demands or does not reject flatly the conference idea, it was considered probable by many well-informed persons here that Mr. Roosevelt would seek a concrete expression on those points.

Government officials do not consider the delivery of Hitler's speech tomorrow an official reply to the president's proposals, inasmuch as it is being made to the German people rather than to Mr. Roosevelt. They would not be surprised, however, if the German government afterward would acknowledge receipt of the April 15 appeal by transmitting to the white house a copy of Hitler's address.

In the meantime, because of the troubled foreign situation, Mr. Roosevelt is hastily filling vacancies on conciliation commissions which would help compose disputes the United States might have with any of 35 nations. In the last two months he has appointed new members in 10 commissions.

The United States has treaties of conciliation with 38 nations, but three of them, Ethiopia, Czecho-Slovakia and Albania; have lost their independence.

A parallel in the president's present moves is seen by diplomats here in the fact that most of the conciliation treaties were negotiated by William Jennings Bryan in 1914 when war clouds once before hung over Europe.

There are approximately 40,000,000 drivers on United States highways, operating 26,000,000 vehicles.

The world's deepest oil wells are located in the United States. The deepest of the wells is as deep as Pike's Peak is high.

Tells Story Of Finding LaMance Body

might withdraw its objections to her testimony yesterday that blood-stains she found in the kitchen were from fish which were cleaned there.

Cross Examine Witness

KEYTESVILLE, Mo., April 27.—(AP)—The defense brought out on cross examination today that Irwin Harbaugh had at least three chances to get away from Dr. William F. LaMance whom he feared after sighting the body of the Laclede osteopath's wife in a fruit cellar at the LaMance home.

Answering questions of Lon R. Owen, chief defense counsel in Dr. LaMance's wife murder trial, Harbaugh, oil truck driver, said he was alone 10 minutes in the LaMance car in Kansas City when the osteopath went to the General hospital to learn the address of his wife's sister.

He was alone again for a like period as Dr. LaMance stopped at his sister-in-law's home, Harbaugh said. He added that Dr. LaMance offered to buy him a ticket back to Laclede but that he decided to go on with him to the home of the doctor's evangelist parents in Manitou Springs, Colo.

Even before that, the gum chewing Harbaugh said, he went alone to the homes of some LaMance acquaintances in Laclede in a purported search for Mrs. LaMance. That, he said, was immediately after he saw the body and three days before Dr. LaMance reported his wife missing.

Mostly Women At Trial

A courtroom, largely filled with women as men af this rural area turned their attention from the trial to take advantage of a fine spring day for plowing, heard Harbaugh quote Dr. LaMance as refusing his mother's request that they return to Missouri from Colorado to seek the young osteopath's wife.

Harbaugh said he and Mrs. Lora LaMance, mother of the defendant, were discussing Mrs Ella LaMance's disappearance when the doctor awoke.

"Son," Harbaugh quoted Mrs. LaMance as saying, "we're going back and get to the bottom of this."

"I'm not going back, he testified Dr. LaMance replied, "let them find her. The truth will out."

Harbaugh was recalled to the stand this morning after telling yesterday of sighting the body of Ella in the fruit cellar.

"When you opened the door," asked Prosecutor G. Derk Green yesterday, "What did you see inside?"

"I saw the body of Ella LaMance," Harbaugh replied. "I pulled the door shut and started back up the stairs. When Dr. LaMance asked me if she was in there I said 'no' because I got the impression—"

Here the defense protested and Harbaugh was not allowed to finish the sentence.

Dr. LaMance was about 10 feet behind him when he found the body Harbough said, and he strode towards him with a "wild-eyed" look.

Harbaugh told of a wild ride he and the doctor took to Manitou Springs, Colo., afterwards. The prosecution contends LaMance made a "search" for his wife in Kansas City and Colorado to throw off suspicion.

George Koch, Jr., a state chemist, had the packed courtroom on edge as he testified stains found in the LaMance home were human blood.

LaMance's lawyers claimed the stains were from catfish he had caught and cleaned the day his wife disappeared, but the doctor said, too, he cut himself when he stumbled against a plate glass door and broke it.

Warns Against An Election

LONDON, April 27.—(AP)—Prime Minister Chamberlain warned the labor opposition in the house of commons today against forcing a general election on conscription as he opened the debate on the emergency conscription bill he announced yesterday.

"I forsee that matters might be pushed to such an extremity that this government would not have any other choice" than to order an election, he said amid Laborite cheers and counter-cheers from the government benches.

"But surely," he added, "a very heavy responsibility would rest upon those who force such a conclusion at this time.

"An election would leave the country in a state of confusion and uncertainty, postpone for what might be vital weeks, measures which the government thought necessary, check the output of munitions vital to us at this time and distract the attention of those who are responsible for government departments."

The conscription measure will make men 20 years of age liable to six months of military training Authoritative estimates placed the first draft at 200,000.

Chamberlain appealed to the opposition "not to be hasty in taking an irrevocable decision which might create in quarters where it was better it should not be created a wrong impression about our determination to play our part to the full in carrying through" conscription.

Violence In 'Risk' Deaths Are Alleged

Charge Ring Used Various Methods On The Victims

PHILADELPHIA, April 27—(AP)—A possibility that Philadelphia's insurance-murder ring used more violent methods than poison came to light today with the arrest of a widow whose husband was killed by a "hit and run" motorist.

Detectives charged he was run over deliberately after being slugged with a lead pipe.

The charged Mrs. Marie Wolosyn, 41, with homicide in the death of her husband in January, 1936. Police had listed his death as an unsolved hit and run case, but they now contend he was murdered.

William Connelly, chief of Philadelphia county detectives, said the widow collected $10,600 insurance on Wolosyn's life.

The usual method of the ring or its "customers" was to poison victims slowly. George Neumeyer, secret service agent, has testified two men accused as ringleaders proposed braining an intended victim with a sandbag.

At the recent trial of Herman Petrillo, convicted of first degree murder and facing the electric chair, Neumeyer testified Petrillo had told him he could earn $500 by "bumping a guy off."

Neumeyer, who stumbled on the poison plot while investigating counterfeiting, said Petrillo suggested various ways of killing Ferdinand Alfonsi, 38, a WPA worker. He mentioned running over Wnonsi with an automobile, drowning him, or hitting him on the head with a sandbag.

Petrillo confided later, the investigator testified, that he gave Alfonsi "enough poison to kill six men."

"He's in the hospital and the fools think he has pneumonia," Neumeyer quoted Petrillo.

Convicted of Murder

Petrillo was convicted of Alfonsi's murder and the WPA laborer's widow awaits trial on a similar charge.

Detectives reported today Petrillo would seek a new trial in hopes of winning clemency if he tells all he knows.

Mrs. Carina Favato, who pleaded guilty to poisoning three persons, received a judge's promise that she would not be electrocuted if she helped smash the poison ring. Her disclosures were followed by four arrests and the discovery that a man Police Captain James A. Kelly termed a "big shot" of the insurance-murder "corporation" was a prisoner in New York.

Kelly announced that the New York prisoner, Caesar Valenti, now serving a sentence in Riker's Island penitentiary for liquor law violation, was co-leader with a "faith healer" of the ring when it was organized about 10 years ago.

Some six years later, Kelly said, the ring split into two groups, with Valenti as head of one and the "faith healer"—still a fugitive—as head of the other. Investigators believe the ring, operating in Pennsylvania, New York, New Jersey and Delaware, may have killed "scores" of persons to collect insurance money.

Immigration officials had said they might deport valenti upon expiration of his sentence Sunday, because of convictions in Italy before he came to America 30 years ago. Kelly announced he would be kept here, instead.

Altogether nine persons have been arrested on murder charges since an investigation was started months ago at the instigation of insurance companies. Three women and two men indicted after traces of poison were found in five exhumed bodies. One of them was convicted and is facing the electric chair.

Then, in a dramatic move, one of the women confessed poisoning three persons and agreed to "tell all" about the ring's activities. The arrest of four more persons—three of them women—followed in quick succession.

K C Police Bill Has Cleared Its First Hurdle

Maurice Schechter of St. Louis and Taylor.

The committee approval ended 24 hectic hours for the police bill which began about midnight Tuesday with Chairman H. P. Lauf's attempt to adjourn the judiciary committee without considering the measure.

Coalition Seizes Control

A coalition of Democrats and Republicans seized control over his head and reported the bill "do pass" 22 to 0—a bare majority. When their temporary chairman, Rep. Jules Brinkman (D), St. Louis, asked for a roll call to force Lauf to surrender the bill yesterday, however, both parties went into caucus and the result was to send the bill back to the full committee.

Consequently it was tense atmosphere when the committee members filed into the house lounge at 8 p. m. last night. A majority already had voted for the bill and carried with them the power to force it out if they remained united.

Two amendments were offered early in the executive session—one to make the proposed Kansas City police board partisan and the other providing four-year terms for the police commissioners. The first was promptly defeated and the second withdrawn. It was then Phillips began his plea for delayed action to permit time to prepare amendments.

Taylor appeared out of sorts with the long debate when he made his motion to reject all amendments.

As finally approved the bill was unchanged from its original form as recommended by Gov. Lloyd C. Stark in a stinging denunciation of Kansas City law enforcement a month ago. The measure provides that control of Kansas City's police department be lifted from the city administration and lodged in a bi-partisan state board to be appointed by the governor.

Writ Grant In Donnelly Case

KANSAS CITY, April 27—(AP)—Cheers and showers of confetti floated from the Donnelly Garment company's plant here today as employes expressed joy concerning the federal court injunction against the International Ladies Garment Workers' union.

Shouts of gaiety replaced the hum of machines when workers arrived at the plant. Judge Andrew Miller's opinion granted the company and the Donnelly Garment Workers' union an injunction against the ILGWU.

The workers formed circles and danced while officials and supervisors looked on. One of the milling young women fainted. Soon the singing and gaiety slowed down as the workers began their tasks.

KANSAS CITY, April27—(AP)—An out-of-town federal judge hearing a labor suit here added his voice today to the many that have criticized the Kansas City police department.

Judge Andrew Miller of Fargo, N. Dak., in granting an injunction against "unlawful picketing" sought by the Donnelly Garment Co. against the International Ladies Garment Workers union, charged today heads of the police department "have actually connived in truth and in fact with the lawless elements of your city."

Judge Miller's opinion enjoined the union from directing fraud or violence at the Donnelly company or the Donnelly Garment Workers' union, and from carrying out a secondary boycott against the company's products.

He said only one serious question was raised in the case:

Whether the local authorities are willing and able to protect the plaintiff's property and rights from violence and fraud.

Then he referred to a strike at two other garment plants in 1937, when he said evidence showed "at least 70 policeman" did not keep order. The police administration since has changed hands.

"Is it possible," he asked, "that a city the size of Kansas City with at least 70 policeman available could not eject x x x 30 or 40 or 50 obstreperous females, not in any wise armed?

"I do not believe that those policemen were actually in good faith trying to dispense that mob."

The judge said "I do not mean to criticize those policemen" but "their superiors knew what was going on down there."

T. O. Herrick Resigns From Oil Company

T. O. Herrick, 2100 South Marvin avenue, for the past ten years agent for the Sinclair Oil Company in Sedalia, his territory extending over Pettis County and a section of Benton County, has resigned effective May 1.

Mr. Herrick will be succeeded by Gordon Potter, for the past four years general salesman for the Sinclair Company. Mr. Potter stated today that there will be no change in the company personnel.

Mr. Herrick stated that he had not definitely determined his business plans for the future. He has other business interests to which he will devote some time, and he stated, in announcing his resignation that he is very appreciative of the support he received from the public during the years he represented the Sinclair company.

Arrested By Special Officer

Tom Willoughby, Clinton, was arrested Wednesday night by Jim Ellis, special officer for the Missouri-Kansas-Texas railroad, and is held in the city jail. He will probably be charged with trespassing on railroad property this evening in the court of Judge Charles W. Bente, sitting as ex-officio justice of the peace.

Ask Nearly Billion and Half For Year's Relief

Republicans and other congressional critics of the present relief set-up.

"I believe," Mr. Roosevelt told congress, "that such a system (of grants) has as many disadvantages as there are local political units in the nation."

The chief executive expressed the hope that the investigation of WPA now being conducted by a house committee " will be guided along constructive lines, and if this is done I feel sure that its outcome will be to demonstrate the wisdom of the measures which have been adopted to meet the needs of the unemployed."

Regarding distribution of WPA funds Mr. Roosevelt said:

"Any formula that may be devised for this purpose and written into legislation should take in account not only the factor of population, but also the constantly changing economic and unemployment conditions in various sections of the country.

"Allocation should be made on the basis of jobs to be provided and not on the local basis of funds to be distributed.

Furthermore, the formula should not be too rigid and should permit a substantial amount of administrative discretion in order to provide sufficient flexibility to meet special situations and relief crises.

"The matter of the contributions of sponsors to works progress administration projects has been satisfactorily covered by the provisions of the emergency relief appropriation act of 1938, which placed a limit on the amount of federal funds that can be used for purposes other than the payment of wages. I suggest a continuation of this practice rather than the imposition of a percentage basis on which sponsors would be required to participate."

Funds for NYA

In the same message, the president requested an appropriation of $123,000,000 for the next fiscal year for the national youth administration and also an appropriation of $123,000,000 for the farm security administration. He asked that unexpended funds remaining to these agencies be carried over into the next year.

He recommended appropriation $1,350,000 for the Indian service for continuing Indian rehabilitation.

In additon, the president asked $25,650,000 for administrative expenses of several government agencies in connection with carrying phases of the relief program. This would be divided as follows: civil aeronautics authority $250,000, general accounting office $5,225,000, treasury department $14,925,000 and U. S. employes compensation commission $5,250,000.

He also recommended appropriations of $1,500,000 for the national emregency council, $990,000 for the national resources committee, and $10,000,000 for the Puerto Rico reconstruction administration.

"It may be of interest to the congress," the president said, "to know that through the department of state we have received many assertions that there are few unemployed persons in the nations which have accepted totalitarian forms of government."

"In these nations private employment takes care of a smaller proportion of their employable citizens than private employment does in the United States.

"This means that government employment is responsible for the care of a larger portion of the employable population than in this country—creating in fact a government employment system, based in great part on the manufacture of munitions, which costs more than our system.

"The principal difference is that in the nations to which I refer this employment is called employment, whereas in the United States it is called relief.

"Actually, our system of work relief is relatively far cheaper than the other method and as at present constituted does take care of the great majority of the needy unemployed who are able to work.

"I trust that the people will not be deceived by the terminology and will not asume that the totalitarian methods of government are more effective than our own.

"The system which we have favored in the United States during the past six years is by no means perfect. It can be improved but not at the expense of substituting the dole for work relief nor by turning the management of works projects back to the sole care of the many thousands of local governments. It will be said by history, after much political smoke has cleared away, that the federal government's handling of work relief has been one of our most efficient administrative accomplishments."

Perjury Claim In Indictment

Federal Jury Accuses Head Of Sanitary Company

KANSAS CITY, April 27—(AP)—Lester L. Jordan, Pendergast Democratic organization leader in Kansas City's 14th ward and president of the company that profitably processes the city's garbage, was formally arrested today on a federal indictment charging him with perjury in his testimony before the grand jury.

The indictment, reported late yesterday, contained two counts. One charged he gave false testimony April 6 in connection with transfer of $28,000 in Sanitary Service Company stock to Tom J. Pendergast. The second asserted he perjured himself April 7, the day Pendergast and R. E. O'Malley, former state insurance superintendent, were indicted on income tax evasion charges.

Jordan came to the office of Maurice M. Milligan, U. S. district attorney, this morning. He was questioned by Thomas Costelow, assistant prosecutor, who has handled his lengthy testimony before the grand jury.

At the conclusion of the conference, Edward McDonnell, a deputy United States marshal, served Jordan with a warrant for his arrest and took him to the marshal's office, where he was fingerprinted. His bond was fixed by Judge Albert L. Reeves at $2,000, which was supplied. Clay C. Rogers, a law associate of Rep. C. Casper Bell, appeared as Jordan's attorney.

The grand jury resumed its investigation of Pendergast's manifold business activities this morning with Edward Schneider before it as a witness. Schneider said yesterday he is secretary-treasurer of seven Pendergast enterphises, including the Ready Mixed Concrete company, which has supplied materials for many public projects.

Place Order For 571 Airplanes

WASHINGTON, April 27.—(AP)—With a speed which surprised the capital, President Roosevelt Wednesday signed into law the $549,000,000 war department appropriation bill and immediately the army high command placed a record-breaking order for 571 war planes at a cost of more than $50,000,000.

Moreover, Secretary of War Woodring, declaring he wanted to assure the American people as to the "readiness and adequacy" of the army, disclosed steps to weed out the over-aged and physically unfit among the service's 12,500 officers.

There was no formal announcement that the events here were timed to impress Hitler, and perhaps induce him to give a favorable response.

However, it was noted that the President, in a speech today to a White House conference on children's problems, emphasized his recent plea anew by quoting from it.

The war department appropriation, most of which is for the fiscal year beginning July 1, 1939, is the largest since the A. E. F. was demobilized. Usually, it is several days from the time a measure is finally voted by Congress until the President signs it. But in this case the bill, which was finally approved by Congress only yesterday, was rushed to enactment.

Marital Rift By Barrymores

ST. LOUIS, April 27—(AP)—John Barrymore and Elaine Barrie, whose romance and 30 months of married life consisted of one rip-roaring episode after another, are going to be divorced for the second time.

"The great lover" disclosed last night that he and his youthful fourth wife "could not hit it off together" and had agreed on a separation.

The parting arrangements, he insisted, were amicable.

Miss Barrie, who takes a lively spanking from her famous husband in the play, "my dear children," in which they co-star, plans to leave the show when it concludes a week's engagement here Saturday night.

Barrymore said he would continue with the show.

As for his wife's career, he added, "I hope she gets along like a house afire. She is a very intelligent girl and a fine actress."

This will be the couple's second divorce. Married at Yuma, Ariz., Nov. 9, 1936, they were divorced the following April at Los Angeles. She charged he was sullen, abusive, and had once threatened to kill her. Later they had the divorce decree set aside.

Barrymore is 57, Miss Barrie 24.

Visibly affected as he told of the latest developments of their stormy martial career, Barrymore declined to discuss the details, except to say that he supposed his wife would file charges on the "usual grounds of incompatability."

Elaine refused to discuss her plans.

Blame Woman In Jail Break

NEOSHO, Mo., April 27—(AP)—A woman trusty who "fell" for a male prisoner today was blamed by Sheriff Beach Bridges for the success of a bold delivery from Newton county's jail on the third floor of the courthouse building last night.

The woman, Delores Castell, 25, and four other prisoners, three of them under federal indictment for postoffice and bank burglaries escaped and still were at liberty today.

Sheriff Bridges notified the department of justice, which was expected to enter the search for the fugitives today. The woman and three federal prisoners, driving a stolen car and armed with a machine gun taken from the sheriff's office, were last reported seen fleeing south from Bentonville, Ark., where they held up a filling station at 10:30 o'clock last night.

The fifth prisoner, Jack Bybee, 36, of Southwest City, who was being held on a cattle theft charge separated from the others and was being sought in McDonald county today.

Besides the Castell woman and Bybee, the other fugitives are William Edward Montgomery, 28, of Warren, Pa., Eugene T. Booth, 29, of Bloomfield, N. J., and Dave Rodgers, 31, of Detroit. The latter three were brought here recently from El Paso, Tex., where they were arrested and were indicted by a federal grand jury at Kansas City on charge of burglarizing the postoffice at Stotts City and the bank of Avilla.

Alvin Williams, jailer, was overpowered with the use of kitchen knives and with a trusty, James Smith, was locked in a cell after his keys had been taken from him. No other officer was at the jail at the time.

Heard Addresses at Rotary Convention

Mrs. L. R. Raines, 1317 South Ohio avenue, has returned from Springfield where her company decorated for the Rotary district convention. Monday night Mrs. Raines heard Father Flanigan, of Boys Town, speak at the Shrine Mosque, and at that meeting the invocation was asked by Father Paul A. Dunne, of Springfield, formerly of Sedalia.

Tuesday morning Mrs. Raines heard Boake Carter, radio commentator, who spoke at the Gillioz theatre.

Hides and skins are largely a by-product, since animals are raised for their meat. The by-product, however, is a most valuable one.

Late Lift For Stock Market

NEW YORK, April 27.—(AP)—Last-minute buying in General Motors and Chrysler, combed with strength of aircraft throughout, gave the stock market a final lift today.

Early gains running to 2 points were cut down or eased after midday. The comeback, however, enabled a number of favorites to close near their best levels.

Prices and activity were best in the first hour. Volume dwindled thereafter, with transfers approximating 500,000 shares.

Guessing as to what Hitler would say in his speech before the Reichstag tomorrow, answering the Roosevelt peace appeal, was hardly calculated to put steam into speculative prices. Traders, consequently, kept commitments at a minimum while waiting to see just how strong a blast would come from the Fuehrer.

The few hopeful news spots in the domestic budget seemed to be overshadowed to a great extent by foreign developments, even though there was nothing startling in the latter.

KRUGON HAS HER FEELING LIKE A DIFFERENT WOMAN

Body Ravaged With Aches and Pains In Muscles and Joints; Foods Failed To Digest Properly; Had Almost Given Up Hopes of Regaining Health

"I had about given up hopes of ever regaining my health when I found KruGon," said Mrs. Anna Fewell, a well known, highly respected lady who lives at 314 N. Quincy St., Sedalia, Missouri, in a recent statement reaching the McFarland and Robinson Drug Company, 104 W. Main St., this city:

MRS. ANNA FEWELL

"For years I had been in ailing health," continued Mrs. Fewell. "My stomach simply refused to function properly and after every meal I was certain to suffer great distress with indigestion attacks, gas formation and bloating until I was miserable. It seemed that my food lay in a solid lump in the pit of my stomach without being digested. Of course this had its effect on the functioning of my bowels and constipation added to my distress. I was always taking laxatives and then many times could not get relief. I was advised to have an operation but at my age of fifty nine years I was afraid to undergo such. Poisonous impurities collected in my system, settling in my joints and muscles. My shoulders pained severely and my right arm became almost useless. My weight fell from one hundred sixty pounds to one hundred ten. I would be possessed with such awful dizzy spells I would have to hold to something to keep from falling. Life was so discouraging in this condition for I was unable to do all my housework. I then began hearing so much praise for this laxative-tonic KruGon, and decided to put it to a test on my stubborn case of ill health."

"In scarcely no time it seemed that KruGon had given me full reason to believe that I was not going to be disappointed in its action," continued Mrs. Fewell. "I continued its use and am now feeling like an altogether different woman. All those dreadful aches and pains are gone form my body. My bowels are also functioning normally. My foods digest properly now and I enjoy eating without terrible distress following my meals. I have no more dizzy spells and am able to get about and do all my housework with ease. Even yet I can hardly believe the wonderful change that has been made in my health since the use of the herbal-tonic, KruGon."

KruGon is sold by the McFarland and Robinson Drug Co., 104 West Main St., this city, and by the leading druggists in surrounding towns.

LET A HEADACHE RUIN YOUR DAY

A throbbing headache—a sour, acid stomach can certainly ruin your day. How often does your worst headache come as a result of improper diet, over-indulgence and hyperacidity? When this is the case, ordinary "pain-relieving" remedies are not enough. You need two kinds of relief. Relief from the pain — and relief from the excess acid condition. In short — the thing you need is Alka-Seltzer.

Because Alka-Seltzer Gives You TWO-WAY Relief

Alka-Seltzer's analgesic action relieves pain and discomfort quickly and its alkalizing qualities help to neutralize any existing excess acid condition. That's why there is nothing quite like Alka-Seltzer. Get a 30c or 60c package at any drug store and be ready to get quick relief from headaches, upset stomach, acid indigestion, morning misery and common aches and pains.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE—

Without Calomel—And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to Go

The liver should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily. If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas bloats up your stomach. You get constipated. Your whole system is poisoned and you feel sour, sunk and the world looks punk.

A mere bowel movement doesn't get at the cause. It takes those good, old Carter's Little Liver Pills to get these two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up." Harmless, gentle, yet amazing in making bile flow freely. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills by name. 25 cents. Stubbornly refuse anything else.

Girl Asks Fishbein How To Get Rosy Cheeks— But Not Out of Box

By DR. MORRIS FISHBEIN

Editor, Journal of the American Medical Association, and of Hygeia, the Health Magazine

A strange letter, almost like a voice from the past, has just reached the conductor of this column. A girl from Massachusetts writes:

"Will you please tell me what conditions, foods, etc., tend to give rosy cheeks."

In these days of widely advertised cosmetic preparations it is almost a shock and certainly a great surprise to receive a question of this character.

It would be very easy to say to the young lady that all that is necessary is for her to get in touch with the corner drug store, where a tremendous number of rouges in the form of sticks, pastes, cakes and other materials will be found available at a price to suit any purse.

Obviously, however, she is one of those old-fashioned girls who seems to feel that it is much better to be healthful in order to secure the appearance of health than it is to supply the appearance of health by masking the actual color of the tissues.

Rosy cheeks are an indication of two important facts: first, that there is plenty of good circulation of blood in the skin and, second, that the blood contains a large amount of the hemoglobin or the red coloring matter which supplies a reddish appearance.

The circulation of the blood in the skin depends, of course, to some extent on the blood vessels that are present. Not much can be done to produce more blood vessels than are naturally there at the time of birth.

It is now well established, however, that circulation can be improved by the use of massage and heat and the alternating application of hot and cold water. These simple performances may be done by anyone who cares to put in the necessary time.

Before anything is done, however, to increase the hemoglobin or red coloring matter in the blood, it is desirable to know exactly how much of such material is present. This can be determined by having a competent doctor make a blood count.

The blood count will show not only the number of red blood cells in a certain measured quantity of blood but also the amount of red coloring matter in the red blood cells. If either of these is found to be deficient there are means for bringing about improvement.

It is now well established that the most significant materials for increasing the number of red blood cells and the red coloring matter in the blood include iron and material in the form of liver or liver extracts.

People who incline to be at all anemic should eat liberal amounts of liver and lamb kidneys at fairly frequent intervals. Iron is obtainable through food, but obtainable with much more certainty in the form of iron as a drug which the doctor can prescribe according to the needs of the patient.

Significant also in this connection is a plentiful supply of certain vitamins, particularly vitamins A, B, and C. These vitamins are found in fats like butter and cod liver oil and also in leafy green vegetables and in fruit juices. The diet of the girl who wants to have rosy cheeks should include sufficient amounts of these important substances.

Finally, everyone knows that a brisk walk in the outdoor air with exposure to sunshine will give the face, at least for a while, a rosy and healthful appearance.

Benjamin Franklin attended school for only two years, between the ages of eight and ten.

'Sensitiveness' Is Just Inferiority In Disguise

By Olive Roberts Barton

If you are wondering why Jimmy has such a bad temper or why Phoebe is so peevish, mother, take their personalitay to pieces.

Half the short tempers in the world are due to sensitiveness, and Old Lady Sensitiveness is none other than Inferiority with a veil over her face.

I think I should study the cranky child very, very carefully. One thing is sure. He is often far more unhappy than the people he uses his temper on. His rages give him temporary relief. He does not wait always for provocation but manufactures presupposed situations. Jimmy may growl and grumble and kick things about just to create the impression that he is a big shot.

Not Exactly Bullies

The bully-defense, yes, but many ill-tempered youngsters do not go far enough to be called bullies. They just irritate us with their cockle-burr covering. In the case of peevishness, it works about the same. A child may be peevish about an imaginary hurt as well as something that actually cuts under his pride. Personally I prefer the "temper" type to the one who enjoys a hold-over or carries a sulky chip on his shoulder.

Well, something can be done about it, so that is one comfort, although any kind of rage or sulkiness is such a grand feeling to the child as well as to the adult that it is not an easy task to work the miracle. Not all at once. It is, rather, a matter of slow grafting or "budding" as the horticulturist calls it.

Build Up Confidence

It begins with trying brand new experiences. Sometimes an entirely new environment will effect a cure in disposition. Next comes the gratifying hobby that boosts the child enormously in his own estimation. Nothing succeeds as well as success. Once he has established some conviction of his worth in his OWN mind, he may lose his lack of faith. It will probably react in more pleasant conduct. Try praise for a change.

It may encourage conceit, but let it do so. We all have to feel a bit conceited or complacent, or we feel like failures. There is not much middle way in these queer minds of ours, no matter how much we deny it.

Post A Win In This Test

Using "post" as a starter, the trick is to build words which will fit the following cues:

1. A post which is behind.
2. A post which delays thinks.
3. A post which ends a letter.
4. A post which goes to school.
5. A post which is self-evident.

How Webster 'Sawed' His Way to Education

PROBABLY no eminent American ever got his education more oddly than did Daniel Webster. Webster literally "sawed" his way to learning, combining work and study.

He did it in his father's sawmill, where he spent his free days and most of his spare time after school. The mill was located in a dense woods, and young Daniel liked to go there because it offered an ideal spot for quiet study.

So Daniel soon became his father's chief assistant and often his father left him in sole charge of the mill. It was at these times that Daniel got in his best licks at schooling. He would set the saw and "hoist the gate" and while the saw was passing from one end of the log to the other he would reach for a book.

Ordinarily it took from 10 to 15 minutes for the saw to cut through a log from end to end, so Daniel devised a virtual "15 minutes a log" study course, encompassing history, science, religion, almost anything he could obtain at his home and from his parents' New England neighbors. That learning, gained by spurts and jerks, Daniel seemed never to forget. It became the basis of his long and distinguished career. Spurred on still further by his mother's fine inspiration, Webster eventually rose to a lasting position in American history.

Just Look at the Fat I've Lost

You can do this—you can slim down face and figure without over-strict diet and back-breaking exercises. For here's a way that works hand in hand with Nature in getting rid of ugly fat due to thyroid deficiency. Just eat sensibly and take 4 Marmola Tablets a day, according to the directions.

Marmola Tablets have been sold to the public for more than thirty years. More than twenty million boxes have been distributed during that period.

Marmola is not intended as a cure-all for all ailments. This advertisement is intended only for fat persons who are normal and healthy otherwise and whose fatness is caused by a reduction in the secretion from the thyroid gland (hypo-thyroidism) with accompanying subnormal metabolic rates. No other representation is made as to this treatment except under these conditions and according to the dosage as recommended.

We do not make any diagnosis as that is the function of your physician, who must be consulted for that purpose. The formula is included in every package. Get a box of Marmola today from your druggist.
